“ I wanted to share one more thing about my father and how special he was. He was the most unselfish person, with the biggest heart. I didn't visit him as much as I would have liked to because of my own issues. I know he would have liked the company, yet when we would come, after a little bit he would say: “you better get going, I don't want you to be in pain”.

Even though he liked to have people around him, it would worry him when I was there, so he would keep telling Glenn to take me home.

To think of others more than yourself when you are going through the incredible amount of things he had to deal with truly amazes me.

I really don't know how he endured all he went through, and he often did it with a sense of humor. With all he was going through he still liked to make people laugh. He would joke with us, the medical staff, and they all adored him, just like everyone else in his life.

We talked on the phone a lot and he would always ask “and how are you doing?”. He was going through so much, yet he still thought of others. I could not ask for a more loving father. He really was an amazing man. I will always admire his courage, his strength, and his loving heart. I miss him so much.

“ Uncle Lenny, I can't believe that you're really gone. It saddens me to think of the pain you had to endure toward the end but knowing that you're now at peace, makes it a little easier to cope with the fact that you're gone.

I will forever remember the wonderful times we had at Christmas! You would graciously host year after year and it was my absolute favorite time of year to come and see your many decorations, lights and the beautiful large Christmas tree you'd pick out! There are so many memories of playing shuffle board with you, bumper pool (you'd let me win every now and then!), Pachinko, pinball, etc. the list goes on and on! Then you built that beautiful bar downstairs and it was amazing! I remember you said that it took you a while to build it but it was worth it! And, of course, that bathroom you built downstairs... (for men only...!) You were a stinker, that's for sure! ;)

I found out at the wake that you were a sucker for Hallmark Christmas movies! I sure wish I had known that! I watch them religiously every year and shed tears, as well! Here we could have been swapping stories about which ones we liked or didn't like, all these years! But no worries, I know they'll be playing them up in Heaven, so you'll be able to continue to watch them! And probably all year long, since it IS Heaven! ;)

I wished you could have met my fiance, Steve. He was with me at the wake and heard so many great stories about you and truly wished he had been able to get to know you. He can build and fix things just like you but let's not kid ourselves... YOU are the master of all and no one can hold a candle to what you could do but I know the two of you would have gotten along wonderfully talking shop!

You were a wonderful, good-spirited, fun uncle (my favorite!) and you will be greatly missed.

*Love,
Colleen & Steve*

“ MY DAD MY HERO

My dad always had this cool, boyish, slightly sarcastic charm about him. He was fun to be around.

But as his daughter I saw a kind, loving, generous, protective, sentimental side to him. So many memories. One of the first memories of my dad was him sitting with me and Debbie at our children's table and chairs drinking tea. 67 snow storm my dad built us a winter wonderland, a slide with stairs made of snow, igloo, tunnels. Can you imagine two little girls waking up to that snow scene. A trip to ST Christopher's carnival. Dad won my stuffed animal right away, But my sisters took another 40.00.

As my cousin Cindy stated I too remember my dad getting in trouble at his moms/my grandmother house. My Dad and the guys would sneak outside and blow off a very loud firework. One time I remember he left a very large hole in my grandmothers back yard. My grandmother would swat, and yell at him while he flinched and smiled. It was a cute scene really. Then there were trips to the store, pick out any one toy my dad would say, anything you want. What a decision for two little girls. Once a year we went sledding. Debbie and I went down on the sled then my dad would ski down on his shoes to bring the sled back up. My dad loved Christmas. Every year he would watch Its A Wonderful Life without fail. My Dad did all the Christmas decorating and would find the fattest live Christmas tree he could. He loved family gathering at the holidays.

My dad worked hard at work and at home. My dad could fix or build anything. We never called a mechanic or repair man, we had Dad. If I told you every great or funny thing my dad did it would be a book. So I will leave it at this. MY DAD MY HERO

The day my Dad left earth a part of my heart went with him. I will see him in heaven one day that I know.

“ To my father-in-law, who I could say was a father to me. I have so many memories I will always cherish. He was a strong man to the end. I could only hope to follow in his footsteps.

New years and Christmas were my favorite memories of him.

Having beer with him while playing pool or shuffle board was the best. Knowing he would let me win once in a while was great. He would never admit it, but I knew it. Fishing was also a great memory, riding in his boat flying around the lake. But most of all I remember his kindness and his love for his family.

He was somebody I looked up to. I will never forget his smile. May god bless him. May the beer be flowing and the fishing always be good in heaven.

I love you Dad.

“ Rest in Peace dear cousin. The last time we saw each other was on the farm and you were probably a little older than the picture below. I have many fond memories of coming to the farm and playing baseball during all the picnics we had there. It was a wonderful time in our lives. Where has all the time gone. I hear you endured a lot of pain in your life, well now you can rest in peace pain free. May God watch over you and your loving family.

“ Rest in peace dear brother. You have endured so much pain in your lifetime, so brave, I don't know how you did it. But when we were kids on the farm, those were the greatest times. That go cart you built, so glad I had a photo, and the flooding where I am sure we all had a great time. Were you the only one brave enough to float in that galvanized yacht? In the barn jumping from the loft into the hay. If memory serves me correctly, you inherited the red and white Ford after I got my own car. Yep, the good old days.

“ I guess most of my memories of Uncle Lenny were of when I was a little kid. I enjoyed spending time w/my cousins playing in the woods at Grandma's, so even the adults weren't in the picture that much. But Uncle Lenny stood out because he got in trouble with his mother. If we were over there anywhere near July 4th he'd grab the other guys and they'd evaporate from in the house and then Grandma would notice and "OH BOY he'd better not be up to that again," and sure enough KABOOM would almost cut off her sentence. He loved setting off fireworks and topping himself every year. Will miss you Uncle Lenny. You were a cool guy.

“ As a father you always made me feel loved. I have so many great memories of things we did together. We would play board games, you took us sledding, lot's of fishing together. You built us a snow fort the winter of 67 but then were afraid to let us go in it unless you were standing right there because you were thought it might collapse. You were always very protective. You were the hardest working person I have ever known, always working on something. But you loved to have fun too. Loved to make people laugh. And people just liked to be around you. Christmas will never be the same without you. It was one of your favorite holidays. You loved those Hallmark movies. I am grateful for all the wonderful memories and for having such a strong, caring, father. I love you so much. I will miss you more than I can say.

“ We moved into your "hood" when I was just 4 years old. We all had playmates: I had Linda and my brothers Jerry and Arnie had you. I wouldn't trade my childhood memories for anything: playing softball or "bounce or fly" in the field behind our houses, dodging BB's, living in the "country" where we only had our imaginations for entertainment. Linda and I were thrilled anytime our older brothers included us in their shenanigans. May you rest in peace, Len, and God's light perpetual shine upon you. Janice
