“Lois was more of a grandma to me than our neighbor. It’s hard to remember a Thanksgiving or Christmas when she and John were not celebrating with us. I am so thankful that she was able to meet Dominik. She was so excited to meet him. She ended up holding him for at least an hour while he slept even though her arm had gone numb and her back was hurting from sitting like that so long. She didn’t want to let him go. I truly think he was the highlight of her days when I took Dominik “her baby” to go visit her after she went into the care facility here in Lancaster. I will miss you Lois. You will forever be in my heart.

“ It is with sadness that I write this but when I see this beautiful face I smile. Lois was family. John and Lois were our neighbors but more than that they were like family to us. As much as we took care of them they returned the same with their company, smiles and laughter and sharing of our many birthdays and holidays together. Lois would made this incredible salsa which John always added extra heat to and they always made 2 extra jars-1 for us and 1 for our daughter Ashley. She taught me how to make it but for some reason hers was always better, probably attributed to the love she put in it. As years went by Lois became a bit unsteady on her feet. While picking up the paper one morning she fell. After that, every time I left her house morning, noon and night she would say. "Watch yourself on that step out there". We would laugh. That became a thing between us. She loved the color purple/lavender. She loved drinking Strawberry Ensure when her swallowing became difficult. I missed her when Lynda took her home to care for her and I miss her now. She will forever be in our hearts.
