“ Tom's Family,

Grace and peace to you as you begin your journey from grief to grace for Tom. The journey can be a gift and blessings from God yet right now it must seem so incredibly difficult. Know that God is with each of you and has his strong and loving arms around you as you grieve for Tom.

Scripture is such a consolation at times like this. One verse that means so much to me is Proverbs 12:28, " In the way of righteousness there is life; along that path is immortality." This verse reminds us that your time away from Tom is temporary and you will complete your journey from grief to grace when you see him again.

As you bid Tom farewell, tell some stories, bring up memories, laugh, cry and take time to include some joy when you are together for his funeral, because his life brought that to you I just know it.

May God bring you strength and reassurance in the good news that Tom and all of us have a Savior and friend named Jesus. That alone is cause for joy!

My thoughts and prayers are with you!
